DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The corrected specification filed 06/02/2003 is accepted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 1, 2, 6, 7, 9-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Napoli (USPN 4,392,009).

Regarding to claims 1, 2, 14, 15, Napoli discloses a solar tile assembly (see fig. 1) comprises a removable outer panel (11), that comprises photovoltaic means (12) and a first electric connector (19), and an inner support structure (13 and 16) that comprises a second electric connector (33), the arrangement such that in use an electrical connection between the first electric connector (19) and the second connector (33) is achieved by bringing together the removable outer panel (11) and the inner support structure (13 and 16, see col. 3, lines 6-7).

Regarding to claim 4, Napoli discloses the outer panel (11) comprises the attachment element (26) and the inner support structure (13 and 16) is formed with the channel (13) for receiving and retaining the attachment element of the outer panel.

Regarding to claims 6, 7, Napoli discloses the outer panel (11) is slidably attached to the inner support structure (13 and 16) by attachment means comprises a channel section (13) formed to receive an attachment element (26).

Regarding to claim 9, Napoli discloses the inner support structure (13 and 16) comprises an electrical junction box (30) that comprises the second electric connector (33).

Regarding to claim 10, Napoli discloses the electrical junction box comprises an input terminal and an output terminal to provide communication between the corresponding solar tile assembly (see fig. 2).

Regarding to claim 11, Napoli discloses the outer panel (11) comprises an electrical junction box formed with the first electric connector (19), the arrangement being such that in the assembled state of the solar tile assembly the first connector (19) and the second connector (33) provide electrical communication between the two electrical junction box (see col. 2, lines 32-34).

Regarding to claims 12 and 13, Napoli discloses the inner support structure comprises means (14, 15) for providing electrical connection between the adjacent solar tile assemblies.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Napoli. Napoli does not disclose the solar assembly (11), which is attached to the outer surface of the structure such as building, or independent support structure inside or outside the building. However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the system of Napoli in inside or outside of a building since it is light weight and easily-assembled (see col. 1, lines 11-20).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 16 is allowed.
5. Claims 3- 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Claim 3 recites, inter alia, a solar tile assembly comprising a pair of attachment elements, which are slidably attached to the inner support structure.

The references of record do not teach or suggest the aforementioned limitation, nor would it be obvious to modify those references to include such limitation.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 06/02/2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Regarding to claims 1, 14 and 15, applicant argued that the panel (11) is not removable outer panel. Examiner does not agree with this argument. In fig. 1, it clearly shows the panel (11) and the end portion (16) are separated parts. In addition, that the panel (11) shown in fig. 1 is attached to the end portion (16) by the connector 25, so to remove the panel (11), de-attaching the connector (25). Thus, the panel (11) is being removed from the end portion (16). Therefore, the applicant's arguments do not overcome the Napoli reference. The applicant argued that the Napoli reference fails to teach the electrical connection formed between the panel (11) and the function box (30) is achieved by bringing together the panel (11) and the box (30). However, Napoli discloses that the electrical connection formed between the panel (11) and the function box (30) is achieved by bringing together the panel (11) and the connector box (30) by connecting connector (19) and the function box (30) (shown in 1 and see col. 3, lines 11-13). Therefore, the applicant's arguments of claims 1, 14, 15 do not overcome the Napoli reference.

Regarding to claim 16, Examiner agrees with the applicant's arguments that Napoli does not disclose the panel (11) is slid toward to the end portion (10) until the electrical connection is made between the panel (11) and the box connector (30).
